POWERS

Of the Pope Are Limited Purely to Conduct of Spiritual Affairs.

Catholics Owe Him No Allegiance in Political or Temporal Matters.

What Leading American and English Thinkers Have Written.

CHURCH AND STATE SEPARATE

Every now and then people who ought to know better, in their tirades against the Catholics, insist that the Catholics must obey the Pope in temporal as well as in spiritual matters; that the Pope governs Catholics in matters purely political as well as ecclesiastical. Nothing could be farther from the truth, and it has been so demonstrated time and again by eminent dignitaries of the church in every age and clime, and within the last fifty years especially emphasized by leading thinkers of the church in the United States and England.

American Catholics owe no obedience to the Pope as a temporal sovereign. He is King only of that part of Italy which rightfully belongs to him. His power is limited to matters of religion, and even in these it is definitely restricted. The Pope is simply the Bishop of the Bishops in the Catholic church. He has the primacy of jurisdiction over the universal church. This primacy is a spiritual power. It relates exclusively to faith and morals, to the discipline and regime of the church throughout the world. That supremacy of the Pope does not extend over politics so as to make him the supreme temporal ruler of the world. But the church instructs nations as well as individuals in the moral laws.

In 1853 the late illustrious and Most Rev. Martin John Spalding, a Kentuckian by birth, the second Bishop of Louisville and later Archbishop of Baltimore, wrote a famous paper on the subject of the Pope's power. He said: "The Pope is confined to religion and spiritual things; he neither claims, nor does he allow, any jurisdiction over us in temporal matters affecting our civil allegiance."

Long before that Archbishop Carroll, the first Bishop and Archbishop of the United States, in a pastoral letter to the Catholics of Baltimore wrote: "There would indeed be a foundation for the reproach intended by the words 'foreign jurisdiction,' if we acknowledge in the success of St. Peter any power or prerogative which extended in the least degree with the duty we owe to our country or its laws. To our country we owe allegiance and the tender of our best services and property when they are necessary for its defense; to the Pope we owe no such duty. In things purely spiritual, happily there is no competition in their respective claims on us, nor any difficulty in rendering to both the submission which they have a right to claim."

The Bishops of the church in the United States, who assembled together in 1842 for the sixth provincial council of Baltimore, wrote to the faithful in those days, saying: "It is unnecessary for us to tell you, brethren, that the Kingdom of Christ, of which the Bishop of Rome is the successor of Peter, has received the keys, is not of this world; and that the obedience due to the Vicar of the Savior is in no way inconsistent with your civil allegiance, your social duties as citizens, or your rights as men."

Church and State both derive their authority from God. Each is supreme within its own exclusive territory. In purely civil and political matters, having a temporal end, the State is supreme. In purely religious matters the church is supreme.

"The circumference of State jurisdiction and of Papal are for the most part quite apart from each other," wrote Cardinal Newman to the Duke of Norfolk. "There are just some few degrees out of the 360 in which they intersect. And Mr. Gladstone, instead of telling these cases of intersection alone, till they occur actually, asks me what I should do if I found myself placed in the space intersected. If I must answer then, I should say distinctly that did the State tell me in a question of worship to do what the Pope told me not to do, I should obey the Pope, and should think it no sin if I used all the power and the influence I possessed as a citizen to prevent such a bill passing the legislature and to effect its repeal if it did. But now, on the other hand, could the case ever occur in which I should act with the civil power and not with the Pope? Now here again, when I begin to imagine instances, Catholics will not cry out, as Mr. Gladstone in the case I supposed, cried out in the interest of the other side, that instances never can occur. I know they can not. I know the Pope never can do what I am going to suppose. But then, since it can not possibly happen in fact, there is no harm in just saying what I should hypothetically do if it did happen. I say, then, that in certain (impossible) cases I should side, not with the Pope, but with the civil power."

In our own time Cardinal Gibbons in his splendid work, "The Faith of Our Fathers," wrote concerning the authority of the Pope: "He is tied up and limited to the divine revelation and to the truths which that revelation contains. He is tied up and limited by the errors already in existence and by the preceding definitions of the church. He is tied up and limited by that doctrine, divinely revealed, which affirms that alongside of religious society there is civil society, that alongside of the ecclesiastical hierarchy there is the power of temporal magistrates, invested in their own domain with a full sovereignty and to whom we owe obedience and respect in all things morally permitted and belonging to the domain of civil society."

So it is clear that in religious matters we obey the church, and that in purely civil matters we obey the State. We obey them in their respective jurisdictions out of obedience to God. Our obedience to one does not conflict with our loyalty to the other. Just as our fidelity to Christ does not clash with our duty to our government. Indeed we obey Christ when we give Caesar the things that are Caesar's just as truly as when we give to God the things that are God's.

SOGGARTH AROON.

Pastor of St. Charles Borromeo's Will Celebrate His Jubilee.

If the Rev. Father Charles P. Raffa lives until June 3 he will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination. Among the many popular priests in this diocese none are more beloved than Father Raffa. He is honored because he is a priest; because he conducts himself with priestly dignity; because he is and has been the counselor of the poor as well as the wealthy.

Father Raffa was born of Italian parents, and like the sons and daughters of Germany, France and Ireland, he was born here and is an American. No stancher defender of Kentucky or of American institutions can be found than Father Raffa.

In his school days he loved a game of base ball, and as a pitcher he had few equals. He loves the game yet, small wonder that he can best advise the small boy how to mend his torn mitt. He has been doing it for nearly twenty-five years.

The broken gloves are not the only things that Father Raffa has mended. Broken hearts, bereaved parents, grief-stricken children, mothers left with parentless orphans and husbands with parentless children, all have been comforted by his counsel. Last Sunday Father Raffa was called to assist in the funeral of his friend and colleague, Father Mayes. The Rev. Father Leo Grenich, pastor of St. Anthony's church, officiated at St. Charles. The people of the congregation took advantage of Father Raffa's absence to celebrate his jubilee. Possibly they might have had his approval, but there are some people who do not deal in possibilities. These people organized and will see that the silver jubilee of Father Raffa is an event in Louisville. The ladies organized by preceding Miss Lettie Small, Chairman; Miss Nellie Holland, Secretary, and Miss Mattie Stieker, Treasurer.

The exact nature of the celebration has not been determined, but it is safe to say that the parishioners of St. Charles Borromeo's will not be alone in their endeavor to honor their soggarth aroon.

LOVE OF COUNTRY

Is Stronger When United With Devotion to the Church.

Monday was a gala day in Rome for the French pilgrims who went thither to assist at the beatification of the Blessed Joan of Arc. The solemn ceremonies took place on Sunday, but the venerable Bishop of Orleans headed a large deputation of the pilgrims, who were granted an audience by the Pope on the following day.

His Holiness thanked the pilgrims for their devotion and exhorted them to remain united. Their reward, he said, would be the welfare of their country, because it was religion that guaranteed order and prosperity, and the interests of both religion and society were inseparable.

Pope Pius X. vigorously denied that the church desired the faithful to become enemies of their country. On the contrary, he said, love of country was stronger when it was united with devotion to the church. Continuing the Pontiff said: "To politicians who declare war on the church, to sectarians who do not cease to calumniate with a hatred worthy of hell, to the false paladins of science who try to render her odious by sophism, and to neo-socialists who are the enemy of liberty, civilization and intellectual progress I reply boldly that the Catholic church is the mistress of the soul, the queen of hearts and the dominator of the world because she is the wife of Christ. The depository of truth, she only can bring back the people to veneration and love."

NOVENA OF PASSIONISTS.

The Passionist Fathers began a novena at the Sacred Heart Retreat last Sunday in honor of St. Paul of the Cross. The novena followed the vespers service at 3:30 o'clock. Each evening during the week appropriate prayers were recited at 7:30 o'clock. The feast of St. Paul of the Cross will be solemnly celebrated next Wednesday.

COL. WHALEN HOME.

Col. John H. Whalen returned to Louisville Tuesday evening after a month on the Pacific coast. His health is much improved, and the Colonel is ready for a siege of hard work.

VULTURES

Of Europe Are Waiting to Tear Turkey Into Little Pieces.

Every Power Wants a Leg But Not Enough to Go Round.

Map of the Continent Will Be Materially Changed Ere Long.

IRISH ARE NOT WORRYING

The British Parliament resumed its sessions last Monday after the Easter holidays, and the serious part of the session has begun. Nobody knows what the result will be. In the present state of the rival parties, the Welsh, the Irish and the English, the session will last until September or October. The session will be renewed in November, because either Birrell passes his Irish bill or resigns.

While the Irish people are anxious for the speedy passage of the bill they realize that the war clouds gathering over Europe are becoming denser. When the Balkan imbroglio appeared to be settled the fire broke out in a new place. It is Turkey now that causes the trouble. Subjects of the Sultan are in revolt. Christians are being massacred by the followers of Mahomet. The Russian Bear, the English Lion, the Double Eagle of Germany and the various emblems that are symbolic of the Triple Alliance are sitting on the figurative fence and waiting for a chance to get their portions of that great, torn Southern European Empire.

To the other European powers it means a Turkey dinner at a feast of children. Each child wants a leg. The poor bird is not a centipede, so what are they going to do about it. Nothing, it seems, until enough Christians are being massacred to call for American intervention. Then the European buzzards will hasten in their efforts to effect alliances with America. Uncle Sam saves his supply of Turkey for Thanksgiving day. Maybe he will be able to get along without it this year.

All joking aside, it would seem that the map of Europe is soon to be changed most materially. The dissolution of the Sultan's power seems near at hand, if it has not been taken away from him before this appears in print. Christians are being massacred by the thousands. Russia is afraid to interfere lest Germany takes advantage of the opportunity. England learned a recent lesson by attempting to play dictator in the Balkan matter. France has internal troubles. Austria is just recovering from an acute attack of Balkan inflammation. Christians in Turkey must await persecution and death. When the Powers settle who gets the legs and the wishbone, what will be left for the Turk and the Christian?

While the other Europeans are worrying about what will happen on the Continent, the Irish people are enjoying the finer kind of a time entertaining Hon. Matthew Quinn, Minister of the Interior of the A. D. H. and the Rev. Father P. H. O'Donnell, of Boston, Mass. These worthy went to Ireland a few weeks ago to aid in bringing about peace between the warring factions of the Irish Republic. A meeting held to raise funds for a new church at Dublin last Sunday, Father O'Donnell made an address, in which he said that it was the poor Irish who built the churches of the United States. National President Cummings declared that if, following the efforts of the anti-social Catholics of Ireland were not united by next Sunday it certainly would not be his fault or Father O'Donnell's, and he added that the blame must fall where it belongs.

AMERICANS

Assisted in Beatification of the Maid of Orleans.

Between 30,000 and 40,000 French pilgrims, many residents of Rome and visitors from the United States and other countries thronged St. Peter's Cathedral, Rome, last Sunday to assist in the ceremonies attended upon the beatification of Joan of Arc. Soon after daybreak streams of pilgrims began to arrive in every imaginable conveyance. They crowded the great edifice, and at 9:30 o'clock myriads of electric lights burst out and the grandest and most brilliant of ceremonies followed. The long procession of Cardinals took their places. In the special galleries were the Duke of Alencon, the sisters of the Pope and a host of French and Italian nobles.

The fastidious presented a fairy-like appearance. It was hung with red velvet draperies, and everywhere strings of electric lights were artistically arranged. Huge pictures representing the miracles of Joan of Arc, and her statue were placed over the high altar, but they were veiled. The ceremony began by the reading of the brief of the last word of which the veil fell. The statue appeared framed with electric bulbs; the bells pealed forth and the masses chanted the Te Deum, which was taken up by the vast throng. Many of the pilgrims, overcome by the excitement, fainted, which were immediately suppressed.

The Bishop of Orleans then said the first Pontifical mass in honor of Joan of Arc, which ended the first portion of the ceremony. In the afternoon the ceremonial was no less impressive. The Holy Father passed through the ranks of kneeling pilgrims, followed by his court and picturesque guards, to the altar. After the singing of the liturgical hymn the advocates for the beatification presented to the Pope the traditional gifts of a basket of flowers and the life of Joan of Arc, magnificently bound.

Pope Pius X. officiated at the solemn benediction, which replaced the ceremonies of the veneration of the body of the beatified Joan of Arc, because she was burned at the stake there are no relics of the prospective candidate for canonization extant.

The Most Rev. Bishop O'Donnell, of Boston; Monsignor Seton, of New Jersey; titular Archbishop of Heliopolis; Monsignor Kennedy, Bishop of the American College, and Monsignor Farrelly, Bishop-elect of Cleveland, represented the United States at the ceremonies.

ETERNAL REST

Is the Portion of Beloved Lady of St. Mary's Parish.

Mrs. Agnes Weiss, one of the oldest and most beloved ladies in Louisville, died at her home, 647 Eighth street, last Saturday morning. She was born in Germany eighty-five years ago, but had spent the greater part of her life in Louisville. Her husband, Prof. Charles Weiss, who died a few years ago, was for twenty years organist at St. Louis Bertrand's church, and had made a national reputation as a composer and an interpreter of church music.

Mrs. Weiss is survived by one son, the Rev. Father George Weiss, pastor of St. George's church, and two daughters, Mesdames William Nold and Philip Stark. The funeral took place from St. Mary's church on Monday morning. St. Mary's was a real shrine to Mrs. Weiss. It was within its walls she became a bride more than fifty years ago, and it was there that her children made their first communions, where husband and children had presided at the organ, and where she attended mass daily until the stress of old age overtook her. The funeral was largely attended and within the sanctuary were many of the local clergy.

NORTHERN BROTHERS

Meet in Social Session and Form the Maple Leaf Club.

Louisville has a new social and patriotic organization in the Maple Leaf Club, which was formally organized at the Seelbach on Friday night of last week. The club is composed of those residents of Louisville who are either natives of Canada or who lived in that country for a year. Among the charter members and speakers were the Rev. Father William Gausepohl, for years a resident of Canada; Gordon Murray, manager of one of Louisville's largest dry goods stores; Attorney J. M. Chatterton and Edward A. Jonas. The club will give a banquet on May 24, and expects to have a distinguished Canadian as the principal speaker. The following officers were elected: President, Norman Rushon; First Vice President, G. R. Burton; Second Vice President, J. M. Chatterton; Third Vice President, Thomas E. Barr; Treasurer, W. E. Warren; Directors, A. T. McDonald, Dr. Charles Mohr, Thomas Hastings and J. H. Ellis. The object of the Maple Leaf Club is two-fold, to promote social relations among the members and to foster closer relations between the United States and Canada.

HONORED IN IRELAND.

A cablegram from Dublin to the New York Times announces that P. F. Collier, of New York, now sojourning in Ireland, has accepted the Mastership of the Kildare Foxhounds for next year, and Isaac Bell, another American, has been presented with a testimonial by the Galway Blazers, a well known Irish pack. The testimonial took the form of a silver trophy in the shape of a fox.

SEVERELY INJURED.

COMEDY

At the City Hall Is Tragedy to the People Who Pay.

Check, Like the Cat Came Back to the Office of City Buyer.

Who Is Who in City Administration and How Placed.

ONE NEW FIREMAN'S HISTORY

There are political fans in Louisville just as there are base ball fans. They may not perform on the diamond, but they understand the good points of the game when they see it played. Just now they are wondering who is coaching Mayor Grinstead in his bases for love and duty toward the citizens of Louisville. The fans admire his courage, but condemn his judgment. They can not understand why he is coached to play the rightness game when so much crookedness is apparent in the administration of city affairs. Here are a few instances that are very apparent:

City Buyer Otto Vost received a check from the Drummond Manufacturing Company for $1240 Monday. It is said to have represented the overcharges for weights on sewer caps. On Saturday Mr. Vost said he had been too busy to advertise. On Monday after he received the check he said it was all a mistake. City Buyer Vost is one of Mr. Grinstead's appointees and stamptailed supporters.

The police department is another joke in the Grinstead administration. A negro burglar enters an East End home in broad daylight and in a thickly populated district, binds and zags the mistress of the house and gets away with whatever change there is lying around house. The officers in charge of the district are an hour late in arriving on the scene, because they did not think it was important. The negro got away. The police are not even censured. On the other hand, a colored woman, John Welsh missed a sand pile on his head and was dismissed. Some Irish wag has said: "If there had been a red lamp on that sand pile the Irishman would not have overlooked it."

But this is not all! Watch how the people's money is being squandered. See who is handling the Mayor's private business with the Bank of Kentucky. It is a good bank, a sound financial institution, but note the conglomeration of incidental coincidences that connect Mayor Grinstead with the Bank of Kentucky. Oscar Penley is President of the Bank of Kentucky, and has succeeded Peter Lee Metheron as Chairman of the Louisville Sewer Commission. Sebastian Zorn is President of the Louisville Board of Water Works and a Director in the Bank of Kentucky. C. C. Meigel is also Director of the Bank of Kentucky and a Director of the Louisville Board of Water Works. Funny, is it not?

What has Mayor Grinstead done for the humble taxpayer? Whose cause has he espoused? Who is his adviser? Answer the last question first, and you will almost answer them all. Attorney David Fairleigh is undoubtedly the Mayor's closest adviser; he is head of the Republican party in Louisville, and he is the hired attorney of the Cumberland Telephone Company, the Louisville Railway Company and several other corporations.

It is all right to favor legitimate corporations working under legitimate laws, and neither of these aforementioned corporations have been proven guilty of wrongdoing, but what has the Grinstead administration done for the poor man?

Thereby hangs a tale, and the tale, while not absolutely proven, bears many earmarks of authenticity. As Mother Goose would say: Once upon a time Mayor Grinstead sent a note to Judge Wheeler McGee, in which he held him the revenue from the Police Court was not large enough. For a moment the message was a blow to the defender of the "boundling, boyish tiny Tim" and "livery" of Louisville, but the learned Judge recovered in a few minutes and replied that he was Judge of the Police Court; that the Police Court was created to deal out justice, not to create revenue.

That seems to have been the end of the tale. Of course nobody believes that the epistolary exchanges between the Mayor and the Judge were so long, but there are many who would rather believe the story than made through the correspondence.

Not long ago Col. Hunger was notified by the Board of Public Safety of his intention to put a certain man on the police force. The Colonel was astounded. The man had been twice arrested in mysterious murder cases, and had been convicted of stealing a barrel of whisky from a railroad car. His picture is in the rogues' gallery here and elsewhere. Col. Hunger pleaded not to have the man thrust upon him. His plea was availing. Instead of making him a policeman the board made a fireman of him, and he is now on duty in a popular residence district.

VENERABLE CITIZEN DEAD.

George Rittman, one of the oldest dealers in sand and gravel in Louisville, died at the family residence, 1412 South Bank street, on Monday morning. He was born in Germany seventy-three years ago, but came to Louisville with his parents when a child. His family was among the

LEXINGTON

Will Soon Have a Banner Division of the Ancient Order.

Louisville Hibernians Royally Received Before the Conference.

Guests and Hosts Highly Pleased With Result of Recent Visit.

CHARTER ROLL TO BE FIVE SCORE

It was a happy party of Hibernians that returned from Lexington to Louisville last Sunday evening, and they left their prospective brethren in the Bluegrass capital as happy and as enthusiastic as themselves. The Louisville visitors were State President George J. Butler, County President Patrick Welsh, State Secretary William J. Connelly, Patrick T. Sullivan, William M. Higgins, editor of the Kentucky Irish American, Dr. John T. Chawck and William Chawck. As a result of their visit and conference with leading Irish-American citizens of Lexington it was determined to establish a division of the A. O. H. in that city without delay.

The Louisville delegation reached Lexington at 11:10 o'clock and was met by a committee at the depot and escorted to the Leland Hotel, where Hon. William Knier played host in true Kentucky style. For an hour or more after dinner the visitors were shown points of interest in the city, and then returned to the Leland Hotel for the conference, which began about 3 o'clock. Two large double parlors were placed at the disposal of the conference committee.

The delegates to the conference from Lexington were Nicholas Ryan, J. B. Donaldson, William McHugh, James C. Rogers, Pat Mooney, Chief of Police J. J. Reagan, Michael R. Fox, John P. Nunn and Eugene Daly. While all of these gentlemen helped to entertain the visitors, there were others. John Hines, Dennis Hickey and Hon. William Knier were on hand before and after the conference to keep them company and to see that they wanted for nothing.

The conference was informal, inasmuch as there was no presiding officer, but State President George J. Butler was the recognized leader in all that was said and done. He pointed out the aims and objects of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and told what it had accomplished for people of the Irish race in the East, and what it was doing in the West and South. Other visitors who spoke were State Secretary Connelly, County President P. J. Wiele, Patrick T. Sullivan, President of Division 3, and William M. Higgins. The various speakers talked along the same lines as Mr. Butler, but each one struck an individual note on some phase of the organization.

His motto, "Unity, Friendship and Charity," was lauded. What the old members did to build up this mighty society of Gaels was told by another. Others still expounded the history of the order, the lessons it installs, recounted its works of charity, its methods of procedure, and the good feeling that results from membership. Still others told what Hibernianism had done for the cause of religion. William J. Connelly, the State Secretary, told how gratified the State officers and Jefferson county officers were to meet with such a cordial reception and to find so many interested Hibernians. William M. Higgins said among other things that the question had been frequently asked: "Why is there not a division of the Hibernians at Lexington?" He said that he had asked the same question on his arrival here, and found none able to give a satisfactory answer, unless it was that the proper feeling had never been aroused until the present time.

On behalf of the hosts James C. Rogers made a brief talk, in which he said he was impressed with what he heard during the conference, and he saw many good reasons why Lexington should have a good division. John Nunn's remarks were encouraging, and he pleaded with his colleagues to secure a big charter list. It had been explained to them that a division could be formed with a charter list of fifteen. He pleaded for more. On the recommendation of Chief of Police J. J. Reagan it was decided to secure 100 charter members. The work of enrolling will begin immediately, but the charter roll will be allowed to remain open for thirty days. When all is in readiness the State officers will be notified to send a divisional committee to Lexington to inaugurate the new members. It is probable that Paris, Mayville and Covington will also send delegations to the festivities.

ALMOST SIX SCORE.

Mrs. Catherine Leonard died last month near Cappamore, County Limerick, at the age of 118. She had a full recollection of the Irish rebellion of '98. Her father's house was burnt by the enemy, and the family had a narrow escape. She often told about Daniel O'Connell and his eloquence, and she was so devoted to him that she called her fourth son Daniel. Mrs. Leonard had fourteen children. Two sons were killed in the American civil war, and one of her daughters, who is still living, is ninety-five years old, and a grandson is sixty years old.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Will Organize Musical and Dramatic Club For C. K. of A.

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America met Friday night of last week with a splendid attendance, and President John Schalda presiding. Harry Veemman, of the Membership Committee, told what was being done by himself and colleagues and reported that as a result of the visit of President Schalda to Branch 36, sometimes called St. Anthony's branch, that body had decided to send delegates to the Central Committee.

William T. Meenan reported that the Ritual Committee was ready for the new initiatory exercises and was prepared to exemplify the degrees when the occasion offered. In behalf of the Employment Committee, Chairman Reichert said that all of the Knights who had reported out of work were re-employed and that several vacancies were yet to be filled. All of these reports were received with applause and adopted. Thomas Feely, a veteran member of Branch 4, announced that he had secured several new members, and urged his colleagues to get out individually and go after the young men. It was the addition of young blood, he said, that would strengthen the order.

Ben Speaker urged the formation of a musical and dramatic club. There was lots of talent, he said, in the order, and among the sons, daughters and grandsons of the Knights. Such a club could do a world of good, its members would visit one branch after another whenever a social session was to be held and would always afford wholesome and popular amusement without cost to the branches. The suggestion was considered an admirable one, and Mr. Speaker was instructed to proceed to organize the club of which he spoke. W. T. Meenan also advocated Mr. Speaker's idea, and told how it would benefit the order in many ways.

Delegate Charles Hill invited the Uniform Rank, the Central Committee and the several branches to St. Mary's church on the morning of the first Sunday in May, when Branch 45 would approach holy communion in a body.

The Entertainment Committee's report, though not complete, showed that its efforts were crowned with success.

"BACK TO TOWN"

Chorus Will Play Very Important Features in Way.

The large class which is to take part in Adlyn Kanston's latest musical chatter, "Back to Town," is rapidly rounding into splendid shape. The chorus is made up of twenty-four charming girls and sixteen clever boys, and with these go many of the best voices in the Falls City. The choruses of Mr. Kanston's operettas have always proven popular, but in "Back to Town" Mr. Kanston has arranged by the addition of more difficult drills, fancy dances and so on, to so much the enjoyment of the audience the presentation of some very pretty pictures, and stage pictures are one of Mr. Kanston's strong points.

Those who have witnessed the rehearsal predict that the show will be a greater success than anything ever given by Mackin's Choral Club. These connoisseurs have commented favorably on the fresh beauty of the young girls in the chorus, and it has been remarked that they will indeed compare with choruses that may justly be called one of real beauty.

During the past productions of Mackin's Choral Club, "The Dreamers" and "A Mile From Town," it has been necessary to give an extra performance to add to the regular three performances, but for "Back to Town" the committee has arranged in advance for four performances, with the understanding that there will positively not be a repetition.

SHOWED CHRISTIAN SPIRIT.

Every Protestant congregation in Saranac Lake, N. Y., has through its minister in charge offered the use of its place of worship to the congregation of St. Bernard's Catholic church until such time as a new church may be built to replace the edifice destroyed by fire. The Methodists were the first to make the offer and were quickly followed by the Presbyterians and Episcopalians. While deeply grateful for the proffered assistance, the priests of St. Bernard's have arranged to have services in the opera house so long as temporary quarters are necessary.

CHARITY OF ELKS.

The recent benefit given by the Elks of Sacramento, in behalf of Catholic charities of the capital, netted over $1,900, a larger sum than was ever before realized from similar entertainments in the past.

The Catholic Mirror, a new weekly journal published at Memphis, Tenn., made its appearance last week and was a welcome addition to our exchanges. To paraphrase the words of its editor, it is little but live, and we hope that it will remain live and wax larger.

HONOR FOR JUDGE LINCOLN.

Judge Walter P. Lincoln has been honored by election as Vice President of the Polytechnic Society of Kentucky. It was the Polytechnic Society that was the forerunner of the Carnegie Public Library, and as such inculcated the spirit that made the Carnegie Library a possibility. The honor is worth having, and Judge Lincoln will worthily fill the post.

KNOWS SOMETHING.

What club does Robert Foster hold over the editor of the Louisville Evening Post? The Kentucky Irish American has no desire to hammer a man that is down and yells enough, but it intends to fight for the people along Democratic lines.

Foster confessed judgment in the Criminal division of the Circuit Court on Wednesday, after he had been indicted for assault. Previous to confessing judgment Foster sought a pardon from Gov. Willson and was refused. Foster has yelled enough! That ought to make it quit, but the editor of the Post wants to raise $100 to pay his fine and his lawyers in one column, and in another column tells how Lafon Allen and Alf Selligman defended him free of charge. Now which is to be believed, the editorial or the alleged news columns of the Evening Post?

TARIFF QUESTION.

The masses of the American people are sick and tired of Republican hypocrisy in the National Government as well as in the cities and States. Now at last the Democrats in the United States Senate have the chance of their lives to show what they are made of and pave the way for a Democratic victory in the near future. The Dingley bill, under which we are now working, is a prohibitive tariff, and from a Democratic standpoint the only way to meet the issue is a revenue tariff pure and simple.

President Taft was elected on a promise that an equal revision downward would and should be made, and he is fair enough to admit it. If the Democratic Senators will stand together and compile all the items in detail that have been advanced over the Dingley rates they will show the insincerity and hypocrisy of the Republican party. The advanced rates in the Payne and Senate bill are favors dealt out to special interests with a pull and are the results of a conspiracy and deception.

It will not be necessary to waste time on reduced schedules or Dingley rates that have not been touched. Every Democratic Senator should take up each item of the Senate bill that has been advanced over Dingley rates, and let the country know all about it. Let the Democratic Senators have a list printed of every item that has been advanced, stating the Dingley rate in one column and the percentage of advance in another. If you go into details you will be surprised at the results.

Senator Paynter, the senior member of this august body from Kentucky, might do well to advocate the work among his Democratic colleagues, and while the Kentucky Irish American has no axe to grind with the Junior Senator, it feels that William O. Bradley will stand fast for Kentucky and her interests even if he is a Republican.

At present Washington is infested with representatives of all protected interests, who have hired and are assisted by the worst kind of professional lobbyists, calling themselves attorneys, seeking still higher protection or to retain what they have, and making all sorts of deals to accomplish their ends.

CHANGE OF HEART.

According to the New York daily papers, the Rev. W. A. Wason, the fighting parson who changed the map of Long Island from "wet" to "dry," prohibition has failed to solve the drink problem. This is what he says about the prohibition movement after having seen it tried on:

"If you wish deformation vote for no license; if you wish reformation, vote for license. In opposing prohibition you are opposing the most solemn and pretentious humbug and fraud that ever masqueraded under the name of reform. Prohibitionists know how to curse, but they have not learned how to bless. The prohibition plan is on a par with the get-rich-quick schemes. Is there anything wrong about drinking a glass of beer or wine with your dinner? Certainly not. I have four boys growing up and I hope that none of them will ever have to live in a prohibition town. The new fad of salvation has taken the place of the old gospel. The constable's shield would be a more suitable badge for the W. C. T. U. than the white ribbon."

This minister fought and fought hard for the dross. He won. Now he is anxious for someone to take his winnings off his hands.

AGAINST SOCIALISM.

The Kentucky Irish American recommends to its German readers the Central-Blatt and Social Justice, published in St. Louis by the German Central Verein and edited by the Rev. Dr. A. Bregl, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the Rev. Father Peter C. Dietz, of Oberlin, Ohio. The object of the Central Blatt is to refute the fallacies of Socialism.

Sir Thomas Lipton must be given credit for being a game sportsman. In London this week he said: "I will try again for the America's cup, and will forward my challenge in August for a series of yacht races under universal rules with a ninety-foot boat. I have no complaint to make of past treatment. The boat host has always won. The reason for my persistence is that I want the cup."

The Louisville Commercial Club is to be congratulated on having two such able and energetic officers as President Fred Kelsker and Secretary A. T. MacDonald. They not only made the Southern Electric Exposition a possibility but they will bring it to a successful conclusion tonight. Two men can not do all the work. Louisville needs more Kelskers and MacDonalds.

RECENT DEATHS.

Her daughter, Mrs. Annie Wiegand, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren survive her.

Mrs. J. W. Hadden died at the family residence, Seventeenth and High streets, on Friday night of last week, and the funeral, which took place from St. Patrick's church on Monday, was attended by a large concourse of friends. Death resulted from acute indigestion. She is survived by five children and a brother, John R. Kelly, of the Internal Revenue Service of the United States. Mrs. Hadden was born in Ireland sixty-two years ago, but had spent many years in Louisville.

BEGAN HUMBLLY.

Charles M. Schwab, who started driving stakes as a surveyor for the Carnegie Company and drove them so well that he ultimately became head of the United States steel corporation, was forty-seven years old last Sunday. Before he drove stakes he drove a stage coach from Loretto to Croston, Pa. In after years he gave Loretto a $150,000 Catholic church, and he went to live in a $5,000,000 home on Riverside drive, New York City.

SUNSET EXCURSION

Is Planned by the Members of Division 2, A. O. H.

Division 2, A. O. H., held a rousing meeting Friday night of last week with President Con J. Ford presiding. As it was the first meeting after Lent the attendance was quite large and the enthusiasm great. The applications of Mike Fallon, Frank Linton and J. R. Hall were presented. Mr. Fallon was elected and obligated. In obligating him President Ford delivered a splendid address on Hibernianism that was appreciated by the old members as well as by the candidates.

During the evening a committee was appointed to arrange for a sunset excursion during the summer. All the members were enthused over the idea, and as soon as a boat can be secured and the date arranged efforts will be made to attract a large crowd.

DEATH OF VENERABLE LADY.

Mrs. Catherine Seilly, one of the oldest and most venerable matrons in the Dominican parish, died at her residence, 1015 South Seventh street at 10:20 o'clock Saturday night. Death resulted from the infirmities usually attendant upon old age. Mrs. Seilly was born in Ireland seventy-three years ago, but had spent half a century in Louisville. Her husband, James Seilly, died several years ago. Two children, Mrs. Margaret Kelly and Miss Josie Seilly, survive her. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church on Monday morning, and many old friends of the family attended the obsequies.

It is not believed that he will suffer any permanent ill effects.

PENSION SCHEME

For Workmen of Germany Has Certain Insurance Features.

The Berliner Tageblatt gives details of the proposed reform of workmen's insurance scheme the Reichstag. The bill provides for the insurance of widows and orphans, which will be joined to the already existing old age insurance. The scheme is, like the old age insurance, compulsory, the employer and employee each paying half the cost, the Government adding fifty marks to each widow's pension and thirty to each orphan's. The result of the new scheme will be to increase the amount of workmen's insurance contributions by 30 to 40 per cent.

In order to give the insured persons some claim in the control of the system, the pensions will be fixed by local insurance officers composed of employers and employees, under the Presidency of an official who is an expert insurance actuary. These officers will exercise all the functions now filled by the lower administrative bodies, the police and the courts. Insurance against sickness is to be centralized as far as possible in the future, the costs to be met by equal contributions from employers and employees. It is proposed further to extend sickness insurance to forest and agricultural laborers, servants, peddlers and casual laborers.

CORSO-MENKHAUS.

Mrs. Nona Corso and Otto Menkhau were united in marriage at St. Michael's church, Rev. Father Martin O'Donnor officiating at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. On account of a recent bereavement in the bride's family the marriage was a quiet one. Joseph M. and Thomas J. Garvey, brothers of the bride, were the only attendants. Mrs. Menkhau has begun housekeeping at 1219 West Oak street.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Irish crochet lace is the favorite for Jabots.

There is a general trend toward fuller garments.

Burnt and butter tones seem to be the leaders among straw hats.

Black and white combinations continue to be popular in millinery.

In millinery the black hat is a striking adjunct of the spring displays.

Classic ideas are followed as much as possible in the arrangement of the coiffure.

Straight fronted corsets still prevail, and the new shapes are long at the back.

Sleeves must be close, but not so close at the elbows as they were during the winter.

The pointed waistline is a novelty after the straight across effects of the empire cut.

Mixtures of grays and browns with deep tints are still in the winter, among the popular fabrics.

On tailor-mades the sleeves are plain and severe, but on dressy gowns they are puffed and ruffled.

Blouses almost without exception are being chosen to match the gowns with which they are to be worn.

Foulards, after having for several years been a drug on the market, are now coming smartly to the fore again.

CRACK BALL TEAM.

The motorman controls the front exit, eliminating danger at that point.

The observance of the following requirements will facilitate the successful operation of these cars:

- 1—Enter at rear only by step marked "Entrance."
- 2—Have exact fare ready.
- 3—Deposit fare in fare box.
- 4—Request transfer when paying fare.
- 5—Pass quickly into car.

- 7—Do not block either exit.
- 8—Smoking will be allowed on front platform only.
- 9—When necessary, change will be furnished by conductor.
- 10—Passengers are requested to deposit fare in fare box themselves, and not hand same to conductor.

HIBERNIANS.
 What They Have Been Doing
 the Past Week—General
 News Notes.

Division 3 of Rochester will close its charter on May 1.
 Newark, N. J., now has four divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Division 15 of Brooklyn expects to have 400 members by July 1.

Mrs. Charles Callahan, of the Ladies' Auxiliary, is much improved.

St. Paul is to have a live base ball league composed of the Hibernians of Ramsey county.

Miss Mary Sheridan and Miss Margie Shea, of the Ladies' Auxiliary, are still on the sick list.

Division 5 of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul had thirty-two tables going at its last euchre.

Division 1 of Newport, R. I., has paid the last note on its new home and is now entirely out of debt.

Division 4 is the only local division that will meet next week, and its session will be held Tuesday night.

A movement is on foot to establish a scholarship for Irish history and literature at the Ottawa University.

Various members of the Ladies' Auxiliary voiced their approval of the bill at the Galt House on Easter Tuesday.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met Wednesday night, initiated three candidates and it was announced that seven new members were to be obligated.

Savannah Hibernians have appropriated a sum sufficient to pay for a handsome oil portrait of the late P. J. O'Connor, familiarly known as "Georgia's Little Giant."

Through the instrumentality of Hibernians a Catholic matron has been installed at the Union Station at St. Louis. The plan has the endorsement of Archbishop Glennon.

Prof. Michael G. Rohan, National Chairman of the Irish History Committee, reports that he is well pleased with the results attained in the last six months. He announces that every State and county now has Irish history committees in the field.

Hon. P. J. Halligan, of Washington, D. C., editor of the National Hibernian, delivered an illustrated lecture on the "Irish in America" at Wheeling, W. Va., last Tuesday night. On Wednesday he repeated the lecture at Clarksburg and on Thursday at Elkins in the same State.

SOME AWFUL BLUNDERING.
 A New York reporter innocently states that "the Apostate Fathers are giving a great mission" at a downtown church. A Catholic contemporary suggests that the "Passionate" Fathers might assist. "Over there," said an Irish guide, "is the Presentation Convent." "Who presented it?" asked an intelligent English tourist, who sat next to us as we drove out of Kilmarney. We must make allowance for our separated brethren.

MOTION PICTURES.
 The advent of spring has only served to bring better crowds to the moving pictures at the several theaters operated by the Princess Amusement Company, and the bright days have increased business at the Casino, Columbia and Princess Theaters. Next week new films and better music are promised at each of the theaters.

Sixteen men were released from the Clonmel jail after undergoing three months' imprisonment for participating in cattle drives. Several thousand people met them with bands and escorted them to their homes.

INNATE CHARITY.
 A clergyman was much surprised one day at receiving a basket of potatoes from an old woman in his congregation with a message saying that as he had remarked in his sermon on the previous Sunday that some "common taters" (commentators) did not agree with him, she had sent some real good ones. How good it is that there is often so much religion and charity in the hearts of the people that they are moved to kind deeds

ROYAL WELCOME

Awaited Deputy Supreme President of Y. M. I. at Bellevue.

Albert F. Martin, Deputy Supreme President of the Y. M. I., received quite an ovation Monday night, when he attended a special meeting of Phil Sheridan Council at Bellevue. The local council was represented by seventy members, while large delegations were present from Lafayette Council, of Newport, and from Cincinnati. President Martin's visit had been announced beforehand, so that all the Y. M. I. members who could find it convenient were present.

The Deputy Supreme President spoke for an hour and a half, but none of his audience grew tired. He had a message to deliver and he made good. He outlined the aims and objects of the order, told what it had accomplished in the past, and what it expected to do in the future. When Mr. Martin had concluded his address he was given a rising vote of thanks.

At the conclusion of the felicitations brief addresses were made by Grand Treasurer D. R. Koenig and John Joseph Cassidy, Mayor of Bellevue.

While the time has not been set Deputy Supreme President Martin expects to visit the council at Lexington at an early date, and soon thereafter will pay official visits to Lexington and Owensboro.

CONGRATULATIONS

Were in Order When Division 1 Held Its Regular Meeting.

Division 1, A. O. H., had a splendid meeting Tuesday night with President Thomas Keenan, Sr., presiding. The application of Joseph Kelly was received. The Literary Committee reported on the recent ball, and the report showed that it was a financial as well as a social success. State President George J. Butler and other Libermans congratulated the young men who had brought the ball to such a successful termination. When the illness of Charles P. Fingon, Chairman of the committee, was announced, the members voiced their sympathy and expressed the wish for his speedy recovery.

State President Butler told about the visit to Lexington last Sunday, and his report was received with applause. John Stanghnessy, who has been seriously ill, was reported improved, and Andrew Gorman and Patrick Connors were reported well. It was announced that Division 1 would have a large class for the initiation that will take place in the near future. Vice President Mark Ryan read a chapter of Irish history, and the members engaged in an interesting discussion of it before the meeting adjourned.

MACKIN'S MEETING.

Reports from Committees Indicate Progress of Order.

Mackin Council had its usual good attendance Tuesday night, with President Louis J. Kieffer presiding. David Hummel and Henry Evershage, who have been ill, were reported improving. The Order Committee made its report and it was received with enthusiasm. Mackin's Social Club announced a dance for next Monday night.

An interesting discussion was held regarding laws governing the funeral benefit fund, and a committee of five was appointed to consider the advisability of changing the laws to meet existing conditions. It was announced, before adjournment, that Austin Walsh would address the members at the next meeting.

AGED FARMER'S DEATH.

Michael Goss, one of the oldest and most influential farmers in Clark county, Ind., died at his home near Henryville, early Sunday morning. Death resulted from Bright's disease, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. The deceased was born in Ireland eighty-four years ago, but came to America early in life. For more than half a century he had been located on a farm near Henryville, and his life was as good as any in Southern Indiana. His aged wife and nine children survive him. The children are Edward, Frank and Richard Goss, of Clark county; Peter Goss, of Louisville; Mrs. John Moran, of Toledo, Ohio; Misses Nellie, Agnes and Katie Goss, of Henryville, and Miss Maggie Goss, who is known in religion as Sister Margaret, and is a member of the community of St. Mary's-of-the-Woods, near Terre Haute.

STRONG PITCHING STAFF.

Although a little too early to predict, the Louisville team from its showing to date gives promise of being a pennant contender, as the pitching staff seems to be greatly strengthened over last season, with no decrease in the outfield or infield. Although the coaching on the bases has not been first class, allowance can be made for the fact that Manager Helme Plitz is just installing a new system of signals, which the players are not thoroughly familiar with just now. The Colonels are expected to break even on the present trip and a big crowd is expected out to meet Jimmy Burke and the Indianapolis team next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

COLLEGE CENTENNIAL.

The venerable St. Joseph's College at Emmitsburg, Md., will keep its centennial this year. The celebration will last four days, June 14, 15, 16 and 17. On the last named the hundredth commencement will be held.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Only one church in Messina was spared in the recent Sicilian earthquake. It was a little chapel where the Blessed Sacrament was exposed daily. Two-thirds of the priests were killed and all were more or less seriously injured in Messina.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
 No Symptoms Have Since Been Seen.
 St. Louis, Mo., February 17th, 1908.
 We used one bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a child who had a severe attack of nervousness, the medicine had a remarkable effect, she has completely recovered and no symptoms have since been seen. Finding it such a blessing among our friends, we shall keep it on hand. SISTER OF CHARITY.

Columbia, S. C., February 4th, 1908.
 I procured a bottle of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for my little son who could not remain quiet and we feared he might get St. Vitus dance and had to keep him from school. This did him more good than any medicine he had used during a year and since his use 2 years ago he has had no recurrence. I recommend the Nerve Tonic to many friends and shall derive benefit from it. I cannot say enough in its praise and beside God, thank so beneficial a medicine.
 Mrs. DAN MARER, 104 Richmond St.

Father Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and now by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill. 100 Lake Street. Sold by Druggists at $1 per bottle, 6 for $5. LEXINGTON BRIDE.
 The wedding of Miss Mayne A. McNamara, of Lexington, Ky., and O. V. Latham, of Greenville, S. C., was solemnized at St. Aloysius' church, Washington, D. C., on Wednesday morning. The Rev. Father Charles Lyon performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass which followed. The bride is one of the most charming girls in the Bluegrass capital, and belongs to one of its most prominent families. She has many relatives in Louisville also.

PRIEST'S EASTER GIFT.
 The Rev. Father Ignatius M. Ahmann, rector of St. Aloysius' church, Covington, is fast gaining a reputation in Kentucky as a man who does things. On Easter Sunday he presented every member of his congregation with a souvenir magazine containing a pastoral from Bishop Mues and many other instructive articles relating to the history of the parish and diocese.

DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, of 1222 Christy avenue, have the sympathy of the entire community in their double bereavement. Twice in one week did the angel of death invade their home and carry away their beloved little ones. On Friday afternoon of last week Earl, the two-year-old son, died after a week's illness, and on the Sunday previous a baby brother passed away.

WHERE IS RYAN?

The United States Government authorities are endeavoring to locate M. J. Ryan, who resided on Harris street, in Newport, Ky., in 1882. The Washington authorities hold a check payable to him on Government bonds for a large amount. Postmaster Ryan, of Newport, has been searching for Ryan for several months.

CONFESSED FINE.

Foster Failed to Face Jury in Trial For Brutal Assault.

Robert Jennings Foster, acting Captain of police in the Fourth district, confessed a fine of $20 in the Criminal Division of the Circuit Court Wednesday rather than stand trial for assaulting Henry Lepping on February 15. Foster has more than a local reputation as a disturber of the public peace, and the fact that his trial was set for Wednesday attracted a great crowd. He had some of the most astute attorneys in the Republican ranks retained to defend him, and, whether it was on their advice or of his own volition, Foster confessed a fine rather than have the facts brought out in bold nakedness.

Mr. Lepping, who Foster assaulted, is one of the most reputable young business men in Louisville. The assault upon him was unprovoked, and leading attorneys say that he has excellent grounds to recover damages from Foster or the sureties in his police bond.

Foster has been the gem of purest ray in the police district of the present city administration. What will the Board of Public Safety do with him now?

GOOD WORK.

Division 3, A. O. H., Continues to Grow in Numbers.

The hall of Division 3, A. O. H., at Seventeenth and Main, was well filled at the last meeting, and President Sullivan succeeded in dispatching quite a lot of important business. Another member was obligated, which with promised additions will give Division 3 a large class at the coming County Bond Initiation. Secretary John Hession stated that the treasury was constantly increasing, notwithstanding the large sums paid for sick and charitable purposes. The announcement that the Literary Committee was about to arrange an entertainment for the friends of the division and the general public was received with applause. Division 3 has some hustlers in the amusement line, and when the programme is completed all may look for a night of real enjoyment. After the regular order of business a number of short talks were made that proved very interesting to the many present. Division 3 is making steady progress and will have a fine report for the next convention.

SUCCESS ATTAINED.

Ireland-Scotland Night at Exposition Drew Banners Crowds.

Ireland-Scotland night at the Southern Electrical exposition was a great success. It occurred last Saturday night, and up to date it had the banner crowd of the season. The Irish and Scotch were there in numbers, but on that occasion they were neither Irish nor Scotch, but plain sons of the Gael. To top it all off the whole affair was delightfully informal. There were no tiresome speeches from still more tiresome speakers. It was just a get-together crowd with all in a good humor. The music, too, was inspiring. Melodies of Ireland and Scotland, melodies that have won battles in war as well as victories in love, went floating out through the vast Armory building and made glad the hearts of those assembled.

Sons of the Scots "Who ha' w' Wallace bled" and old sarsfield rifles mingled together, many of them unknown to each other, but each and all ready to acknowledge that "A man's a man for a' that" whenever he hailed from Limerick or "Within a mile of Edinburgh town."

HOPKINS' THEATER.

The inauguration of summer yandeville, together with moving pictures and illustrated songs, at the Hopkins' this week has proved a success in every respect. The quality of the variety offerings was surprisingly good. Something equally as pleasing is promised in the bill to be introduced Sunday afternoon. The bookings include Prof. Leo and "His Hands," a novel magical turn; Dave Rose, Italian dialect comedian; Frank Behan, an eccentric juggler; and Joseph Lard, a clever character singer. The motion pictures and songs will, as usual, be of the latest kind, with another change on Thursday.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

James Dolan, well known in Jeffersonville, died at the family residence 808 Watt street, soon after midnight Sunday morning as the result of a fall early on Saturday. He had been at work on a scaffold and fell from the second story, nighting on his head. At the time his injuries appeared to be slight, but during the evening cerebral hemorrhages developed and death ensued a few hours later. He was thirty-eight years old, and is survived by his venerable mother, Mrs. Jane Dolan, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, and was attended by many friends of the deceased.

COME HERE TO WED.

Miss Ella Bevens, of New Hope, Ky., and T. O. Blundford, of Owensboro, were married at St. Patrick's church at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Rev. Father James P. Cronin officiating. Bride and groom are popular in their respective communities. Tuesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Blundford left for Owensboro, where they expect to make their home.
